

hair design pt 1

Across

4. In long hair design, the placement of volume or mass creates the overall
5. what pattern is created when two oblong shapes alternate
11. the art of dressing and arranging hair to create a temporary change in the form and texture is known as
12. This technique is used to set an expanded oval
13. The hollow of the fingerwave may be described as a
15. This type of distribution, the lines never intersect and come from multiple points of origins

16. flat, volume and indentation are all types of

17. one oblong followed by a row of pincurls

Down

1. Hair pressing will last until the next
2. The finishing procedure that reinforces the established lines of the design
3. This effects the amount of volume or closeness achieved in a hair design
6. If a client wants volume your brush should be placed where in relation to the hair

7. This type of pincurl is used to create lift or a strong curl effect

8. 1,2, or 3 strands of hair intertwined to form a rope like appearance

9. This indentation base control results in minimum base strength and maximum curl mobility

10. a pincurl with an open circle has the ability to produce a wider wave pattern with what type of curls

14. This technique involves using the curling iron to create alternating oblongs along the hair strand