

Name: _____ Date: _____ Period: _____

history puzzle

Across

3. This battle is the battle that kicked off the American Revolution. This battle was fought on April 19th, 1775. This is important because this kicked off the American Revolution.

7. On December 16, 1773, Boston colonists disguised themselves as native Americans and threw 424 cases of tea into the Boston Harbor. This is important because the colonists stood up for themselves.

8. This man was the first to be killed in the Boston Massacre. He was a run-away indentured servant. This is important because his death is thought to be the first American casualty in the American Revolution.

9. This Pamphlet created by Thomas Paine challenged the authority of the British government. This pamphlet was published in January of 1776. This is important because this challenged the highest power.

10. A group of people who wanted to stay British citizens and stay apart of Britain. These people thought that they would be better off as British citizens. This is important because it divided the colonists into two groups that wanted two desperate things.

11. This battle occurred over a ten day span in 1776. The troops crossed Delaware on Christmas day. This is important because this was a very critical battle of the revolution.

Down

1. This was a military winter camp that struggled against the elements and under control of Washington. This occurred from 1777 to 1778. This is important because it sheltered Washington and his men.

2. This agreement was a negotiation between ending the Revolutionary war and recognizing America's independence. This is important because it ended the war and gained America's independence.

4. This battle occurred in 1777. During this time the British surrendered by moment. The French allies won. This is important because this battle was a major loss.

5. These were a series of laws passed in 1767 by Parliament. These laws established indirect taxes on goods imported from Britain. This is important because the colonists were not happy about being taxed without knowing.

6. This battle began on September 28, 1781. It was fought between General Washington and Lord Charles Cornwallis. This is important because it is the final battle of the war.