

literary elements vocabulary

Across

- 2. when something spoken is not what you really mean; sarcasm
- 5. the opposing character or force in a story that is against the main character
- 11. the process by which the personality of the character is revealed through the characters speech, actions, and appearance using inference.
- 12. an event that happens that is completely opposite of what was expected to happen

- 13. an expression that is clear only to those who are familiar with the language of its origin and cant be understood based on its literal meaning
- 14. a comparison in which an idea or a thing is compared to another idea or thing that is quite different .
- 15. the outward struggle between a character and another character ,nature or society

Down

- 1. the writer reveals the personality of the character through actual words in the literature
- 3. the inward conflict between a character a character and himesef/herself
- 4. a literary or dramatic character who undergoes an important inner change as a change in personality or attitude.
- 6. a reference to something from a known field or area that readers would recognize and connect with while they are reading
- 7. the main character in story plot.
- 8. the underlying meaning of a story that the writer wants the reader to learn
- 9. when the audience knows something that the characters do not
- 10. a literary or dramatic character who does not change throughout the course of the literature