

Name: _____

Date: _____

science crossword

Across

4. a animal that only eats meat.

7. a hind section that contains the reproductive organs and part of the digestive system.

10. when there are no tube holding the blood but it is sloshing around freely.

12. has a shell leaves a trail of slime

13. when an animal only eats plants

16. the paired respiratory organ of fishes and some amphibians that take oxygen from the water and use it

17. what category do clams oysters scallops snails and squid fall into.

18. live in water have tentacles and suction

19. a flexible ribbon of tiny teeth

20. an arthropod with 2 to 3 body sections 5 or more pairs of legs.

Down

1. what is the waterproof and waxy outer skeleton of a bug called

2. an insects mid section

3. a process by which an animals body undergoes a dramatic changes apperance in its life cycle.

5. an appendage that is attached to the animals head and is a sense organ.

6. arthropods with 2 body sections 4 pairs if legs and no antennae.

8. the process of shedding an outgrown skeleton.

9. A invertibrate that has an extended exoskeleton ans a segmented body.

11. an ocean dwelling mollusk whose foot is adapted to form tentacles around its mouth

14. mollusks that have two shells held together by hinges and strong muscles

15. animals that eat both plants and animals

Word Bank

crustaceans

exoskeleton

mollusks

bivales

arachinids

open circulatory system

abdomen

herbivore

radula

omnivores

octopus

cephalopods

metamorphosis

gills

arthropods

snail

thorax

antenna

carnivore

molting