

science crossword

Across

3. the likelihood of something happening or being the case

7. refers to the first filial generation.

8. The allele that masks the expression of the recessive allele

9. the start of Mendel's work on inheritance, or receiving genetic qualities by transmission from parent to offspring. Basically it refers to traits or genes that are passed from a parental generation to its offspring.

10. square diagram that is composed of a grid of usually four boxes and is used to calculate and depict all the

Down

1. An organism that has two different alleles for a particular gene

2. different forms of a gene

4. An organism that has two identical alleles for a particular gene

5. the differences among individuals of a group.

6. the allele whose expression is masks by the dominant allele