

Name: _____

Date: _____

simya benson

Across

4. the process which populations gradually change over time evolution
5. a characteristis that improves an individuals ability to survive and reproduce in a particular enviornment
6. by studying fossils, scientist have made a timeline of life know as
8. the process in which humans practice breeding animals or plants that have certain desured traits
10. the formation of a new species as a result of evolution

Down

1. the process by which organisms thta are better adapted to their enviornment survive and reproduce more succesfully organisms do
2. the remains or imprints of once-living organisms found in layers of rock
3. the average time between one generation and the next
7. a group of organisms that are closely related and can mate to produce fertile offspring
9. a genetically determined characteristic